

DISCNOTES

Imogen Heap, *Speak for Yourself

RCA: Many American music fans got their introduction

A to Imogen Heap from British duo Frou Frou's appearance on the soundtrack to Garden State. While Heap had been performing for years as a solo artist, the track placement set the stage for her to return to solo work with Speak for Yourself, which follows Frou Frou's style of blending synth and dance pop. Speak for Yourself has enough charisma to send fans of both Madonna and Bjork running to the dance floor — especially with its overdrive guitar workout (Daylight Robbery) and goodbye kiss (Goodnight and Go).

— Ryan Peterson